POSTOPERATIVE CARE AFTER ENDOSCOPIC SINUS SURGERY

What to expect after surgery:

- After the operation, it is normal to have mild headaches, nasal congestion, and/or bloody discharge from the nose.
- You will be discharged from hospital the same day unless there is a medical indication for admission.

Pain control:

- Endoscopic sinus surgery is surprisingly not very painful. Usually Tylenol or extra-strength Tylenol is all that is needed. You may be given a prescription for pain medication to use as instructed if the pain is intolerable. DO NOT USE aspirin or aspirin-related products (Motrin, Advil, Aleve, etc.) for 2 weeks before and after surgery as these will thin the blood and increase bleeding.

Nasal Care:

- It is essential that you irrigate or douche your nasal cavities with saline (salt water) solution at least twice a day after surgery. This is to help remove blood clots and improve healing.
- You may use the Sinus Rinse® bottle, a large suction bulb, or a syringe to irrigate your nasal cavities over the sink.

Saline solution can be made by mixing the following:

- ½ tsp of salt
  - ½ tsp of baking soda
  - 6 oz (180ml) of warm water
- If the saline solution is too irritating, you may dilute it with more water.

Activity:

- Do not blow your nose for 2 weeks after surgery
- Avoid strenuous activity such as heavy lifting, running or sports for 2 weeks as this may precipitate nosebleeds.
- If possible, have your head elevated when lying down.
